The 1954 M-Book is dedicated to Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, incoming President of the University of Maryland.

Letter from the President

Education, at best, is a cooperative enterprise. The administration, faculty, and staff of the University of Maryland are employed for the sole purpose of serving the students and the citizens of Maryland. The extent of our success depends, in a large measure, on your desire to be educated.

As a newcomer to Maryland, I am privileged to begin my freshman year along with the new students of 1954, and to aid in the maintenance of favorable conditions for all of the students, on or off campus. Our heritage is something of which we can be proud, and it is our responsibility to enrich everything that has been developed and to share in the creation of additional benefits.

Your opportunities at the University of Maryland are almost unlimited. If you will take advantage of the educational program, in and out of the classroom, you will reap rewards which are deserved only by those who plan and work.

Good luck! But give luck a chance by doing your best.

WILSON N. ELKIN,
President

Traditions

The face of the campus changes. New buildings are constructed, old ones torn down. The students, professors, and curriculum change but the only unchanging elements in the transient school scene are the traditions. Maryland has its well-loved traditions—events, parties, and ceremonies.

The school season swings into action with fraternity and sorority rushing. The greek organizations look over prospective members and vice versa, by means of a round of almost continuous parties, open houses, teas, and smokers. "Rush" is the perfect name for it, ask any freshman! This colorful introduction into college life is interspersed by Registration and various Orientation activities, such as the annual Terrace Dance, planned to facilitate the adjustment of the freshmen to the University.

Next big annual event on the calendar is the football season. Led by the cheerleaders, there are pep and noise rallies before the games, and school spirit is at its peak. Homecoming is the high point of the football season with the old grads re-appearing, dorms, sorority and fraternity houses gay with decorations, the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and the big Homecoming dance.

Annual events which follow are the three Rossborough dances, University Theatre productions, the KA Minstrel show and the Aqualiner's water ballet.

Christmas is impressively celebrated at Maryland. There is a pageant, followed by the lighting of a huge Christmas tree in front of the Administration building. The chapel bells add Christmas carols to their hourly rendition of "Maryland, My Maryland," and the dorms go caroling all over the campus. Christmas formals are given by the fraternities and sororities, and on the last day before vacation there are even tablecloths on the dining hall tables!

Spring at Maryland is ushered in by such activities as the Interfraternity Sing, Spring Week, and May Day, which is one of Maryland's oldest traditions. On May Day, there is dancing around a May Pole on the Mall, followed by the coronation of the May Queen, a senior elected by the junior women. Mortar Board taps its new members at this time.

Also on the scene each spring are the campus elections with a grand confusion of electioneering, publicity and parades.

The spring lacrosse game with Maryland's arch rival, Navy, is one of the year's most hotly contested athletic contests. Proms, spring formals, and the annual alumni-varsity football game complete the Maryland spring scene.

Just before graduation, the annual Honors and Awards Assembly gives recognition for excellence in scholarship, sports, ROTC, and other phases of University life.

Maryland has also its traditions not connected with special events. There is Testudo, the University's mascot, who formerly rested on a pedestal in front of the Coliseum. Early in the football season, he would mysteriously disappear, reappearing just as mysteriously just before a big game. Now the bronze wanderer is permanently anchored at the entrance to Byrd Stadium.

Then at last—graduation. After four years, the student leaves the University with memories of traditions which have enriched his life at Maryland.

University Seal . . .

Maryland's Great Seal, the oldest of the state seals, was sent to the province of Maryland in 1648 by Lord Baltimore. More than 300 years old, the seal is the only state seal of strictly heraldic character.

The escutcheon bears the Calvert and Crosslands arms quartered. The first and fourth quarters are the Calvert Arms. The second and third quarters are from the Crossland, Baltimore's maternal arms. An earl's coronet and full-faced helmet are surmounted on the quarterings. These indicate Lord Baltimore's rank in America. The Calvert crest rests on the helmet.

The escutcheon is supported on one side by the figure of a farmer, and on the other by that of a fisherman—symbols of each of Lord Baltimore's estates, Maryland and Avalon. Below the figures is the scroll bearing the Calvert motto: "Fatti Maschii Parole Famine," which means "deeds are Males; words, females." On a border encircling the seal is the legend: "University of Maryland . . . 1807 . . . 1856 . . . 1920.

History

The University of Maryland began in 1807 when the College of Medicine was founded in Baltimore. Since then, school after school has been added until now Maryland is one of the most rapidly growing universities in the country, reaching students both here and overseas.

Soon after the Medical School was founded, several other professional colleges were established—the School of Law in 1823, the School of Dentistry in 1882, the School of Nursing in 1889, and in 1904, the Maryland College of Pharmacy. Meanwhile the Maryland Agricultural College at College Park had opened its doors in 1856 as the first agricultural college in the United States.

It was not until the 1862 Congressional Land Grant Act that this school became, in part, a state institution. Under this law, the school was one of the first to receive federal aid to education.

Finally, the professional schools of the University of Baltimore and the Maryland State College in College Park merged in 1920 into what is now the University of Maryland. Since that time the school has expanded through its Overseas Extension Program, into Africa, Germany, Iceland and remote spots all over the world.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

• SGA

The Student Government Association, the organization for student self-government, is made up of three divisions, the Executive Council, the Men's League and the Associated Women Students.

The Executive Council is the policy-making group, whose duties include appropriating funds from the student activity fee for dances, the University Theatre, student publications and other student activities carried on by its various committees. Executive Council meetings are held every two weeks and are open to all students.

The Men's League and the Associated Women Student's organizations are responsible for the enforcement of campus regulations.

Elections

Elections for SGA and class officers are held annually in the spring. Primaries are held for offices for which three or more students are competing. A 2.0 overall average is the only requirement to become a candidate.

Freshman class elections are held in October and are open to all freshmen who secure petitions from the SGA office and have the required number of freshman signatures prior the deadline.

Committees

The Student Government Association operates through committees, set up by the Executive Council and open to all students. Chairmanships are open to those who submit applications stating their qualifications and experience. Sub-committee chairmanships and committee members are chosen by the chairman on the basis of experience.

SGA committees under the constitution are Ways and Means, Elections, Organizations and Procedure and special committees, like Student Welfare, Social Affairs, Campus Improvement, Student Activities, Constitution, Campus Chest, Freshman Orientation, Homecoming, Dad's Day, Student Union, Cultural Program, Public Relations, Traffic Appeals, Job Placement and Who's Who.

The President of the Executive Council has already named the chairmen for the following committees: Who's Who, Student Activities, Freshmen Orientation, Homecoming, Dad's Day, Student Union and Traffic Appeals. These chairmen will hold office throughout year. Some committees, like the Ways and Means, Who's Who, and the Elections committees require special knowledge of campus functions, organizations and personalities and are not usually open to freshmen, but the remaining groups welcome new members.

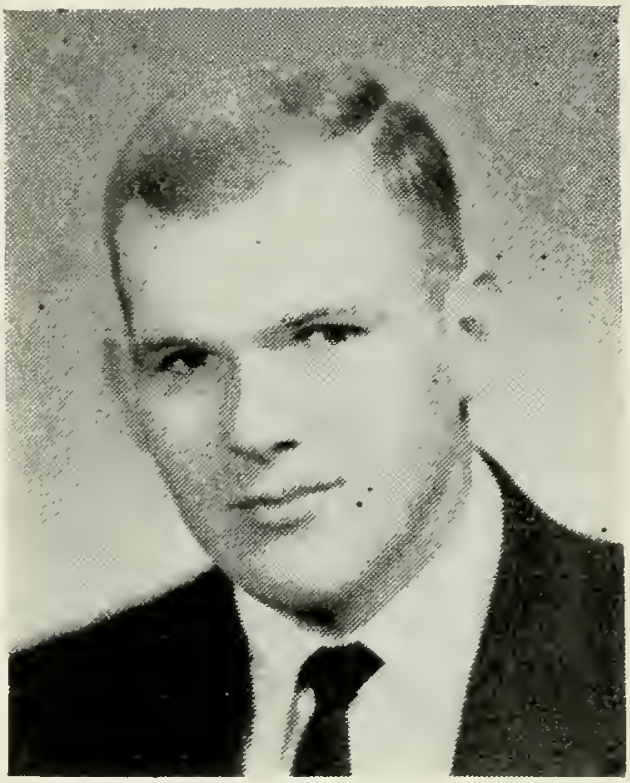
You, as a new student, may be appointed to any of these committees by submitting an application to the SGA office during the first two weeks of school. State your qualifications and experience, campus or home address, and telephone number, and address the application to the chairman of the committee of your choice.

For class prom chairmanships watch the Diamondback for notices of when to apply. Homecoming and Dad's Day are two big fall projects and require a lot of planning and work. Applications for both of these committees will be accepted in the fall.

The Campus Chest is an organization under SGA which conducts a consolidated drive for funds on campus. The Campus Chest Week, which includes a carnival and a contest for the "Ugliest Man on the Campus," raises the funds for many welfare groups.

The Student Union committee is new, and was set up to see that the new Student Union Building is run smoothly. The committee also handles the fund-raising Friday night movies.

From The SGA President . .



It is both a pleasure and a privilege for me to welcome you, as new students, to the University of Maryland and to the activities of the Student Government Association.

These activities, with a few exceptions, are sponsored and financed entirely by the SGA. Therefore, the Executive Council solicits your cooperation, so that the entire student body may receive even greater benefits from its student government.

On behalf of the Executive Council and the student body, I extend to you our heartiest greetings with a reminder that a student supported SGA will better serve you.

AWS, the women student's organization on campus, makes the residence rules and sets and enforces standards for conduct.

AWS carries out its program through the activities of nine major committees: The Cultural Committee sponsors and publicizes local concerts and cultural events; the Social Committee works with Men's League to co-ordinate inter-dormitory parties and desserts; the Orientation Committee helps new students get acquainted with the campus and carries out the "big sister" program; the Area Convention Committee is in charge of intercollegiate meetings to discuss student government problems; Academic Board sponsors the Thursday afternoon coffee hours and tries to encourage better study habits among students; Judicial Board handles all judicial cases not handled in the residences; the Executive Council, consisting of the dorm presidents, AWS officers and club representatives, coordinates all AWS activities and considers all the problems of women students.

Hello and welcome to our University!

We are very happy to have you with us to share the many valuable experiences which we encounter here. Make the most of your college career by studying hard to broaden yourself academically and joining campus activities to broaden yourself socially.

The AWS office, located in the new Student Union Building, will always be open to you for assistance and suggestions. We hope that you, as a member of Associated Women Students, will take an interest and participate actively in our program of social, scholastic, and cultural activities.

We are looking forward to seeing you!

The Men's League extends to you a hearty welcome to the University!

In any problems which arise for you as a new freshman, please feel free to call on the Men's League for advice and counseling.

The Men's League office will be located in the new Student Union Building and the meetings will be held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month at 6:30 p.m.

As your president, I invite you to attend these meetings and make practical suggestions regarding your organization and its welfare.

The Men's League is the representative body of all the male students on campus. Its functions and duties are coordinated to assist the men students.

Functionally, the Men's League consists of the Executive Council and the Dormitory Council. The Executive Council is made up of the elected officers who are chosen in the campus-wide elections in the spring. These are the president, vice-president, and class representatives. A temporary secretary and treasurer have been appointed this year until they can be elected this fall during freshman-class elections. Also on the Council are representatives from various organizations on campus—Independent Student's Association, Interfraternity Council, Ag Council, Men's Glee Club, Arnold Air Society, Pershing Rifles, and Daydodgers Club.

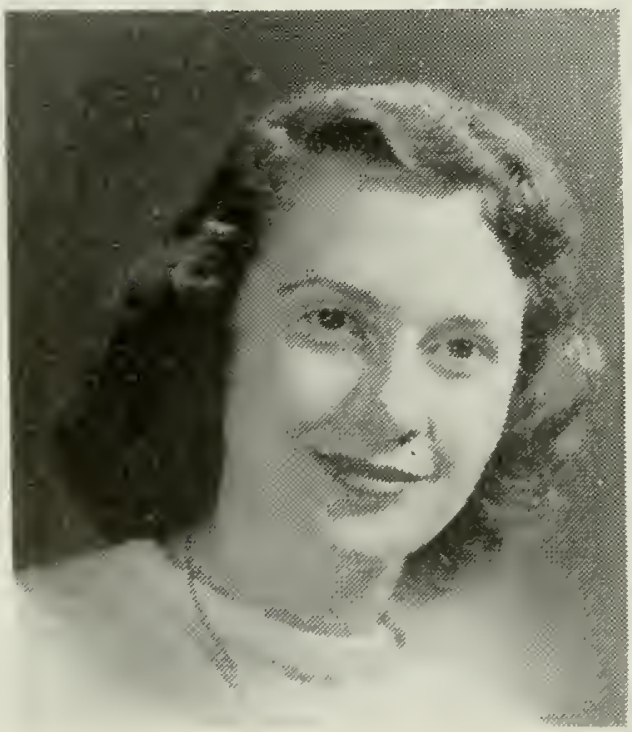
The Dormitory Council is made up of the elected presidents of the individual dormitories and acts as the supervisory and disciplinary branch of Men's League for misdemeanors committed by men students.

• SORORITIES

• SORORITIES

The Panhellenic Association welcomes you to the University of Maryland and extends to you an invitation to join the University's extra-curricular, social program by participating in sorority rushing. We believe that sorority life offers many opportunities. Besides introducing you to many phases of campus life a sorority enables you to broaden your social responsibility, group relations, scholarship, reliability, and loyalty.

When you rush, visit each sorority and judge each group according to your standards of friends. Although choosing the sorority best for you is not easy, ample opportunities to visit groups have been arranged.



The Panhellenic Association wishes you success in both college and sorority life. We hope each of you will take advantage of the active college program that the University of Maryland offers.

Pan-Hellenic President

Pan-Hellenic Council

President ..... Joy Covert
Vice-President ..... Pat Hoover
Secretary ..... Louise Huebech
Treasurer ..... Paula Salganik

The Pan-Hellenic Council coordinates and governs campus sorority activities such as rushing, pledging and initiation of members. Last year their activities included sponsoring the annual fall Pledge Dance, adopting a foster child, and cooperating with SGA in its efforts to carry out student rules and plans. Each sorority is represented on the Council by one voting member. Through the Council, the sororities are able to solve mutual social and scholastic problems and work for closer relationships among sorority women.

Standard Pan-Hellenic Rules

Any woman eligible for matriculation at the University and unaffiliated with any National Panhellenic Fraternity is eligible for rushing.

A pledgeship expires one calendar year from the date of pledging at which time the student is eligible to pledge another sorority. This rule is binding to any campus on which the student may matriculate.

Important Rush Rules

All sorority women and students interested in rushing should be familiar with, understand, and adhere to these rush rules.

Formal rushing is the period beginning on September 10, 1954, with open house teas, and continuing until pledging on September 18, 1954. Rush functions will be held at specified times only. Alpha Epsilon Phi, Phi Sigma Sigma, and Sigma Delta Tau will interrupt their rush program with the observance of Yom Kipper holidays, pledging their women a few days later than the other sororities.

No women, except sorority actives, pledges and rushes may be present for rush functions. Rushees will be allowed to visit sorority houses for specified functions only.

• FRATERNITIES

A fraternity's purposes are manifold. It assists the freshman in orienting himself to a new life on campus, encourages scholarship, and furnishes living quarters. It helps to crystallize habits, broaden outside interests, and increase social poise. It provides training and prepares the college graduate for his future as an American citizen.

The fraternities at Maryland are proud of their organizations and sincerely hope to show you through their houses and enjoy your company during rushing. See you then.

The Interfraternity Council, composed of representatives of all the fraternities on campus, is the "UN of fraternity life." The Council, which strives to strengthen and maintain the interfraternity system on campus, promotes friendly and cooperative relations between fraternities.

Council activities begin with supervision of fraternity rushing in order that each rushee has an opportunity to visit every chapter. Fraternity Way, which explains fraternity life, is published by the council for the use of all rushees.

"Help Week" which replaces "Hell Week" for fraternity initiates is put into effect by the Interfraternity Pledge Council with the direction of the IFC.

Near the end of the first semester the Council sponsors the Interfraternity Ball which offers Greek men and their dates an opportunity to mingle socially in a large body instead of individual groups. At the ball the Council presents activity cups to the fraternities which have participated outstandingly in the IFC sponsored intramural sports.

Fraternity Criteria

The National Interfraternity Conference, founded in 1908, serves to bring about closer harmony among the 64 national fraternities in the group. Annually, national undergraduate councils and college administrators attend a conference, the results of which are reported in the NIC yearbook.

A fraternity criteria, which serves to advance fraternity-education institution cooperation, was submitted by NIC executives in 1934 and approved by the American Association of Deans and Advisors of Men. It reads as follows:

1. That the objectives and activities of the fraternity should be in entire accord with the aims and purposes of the institutions at which it has chapters.
2. That the primary loyalty and responsibility of a student . . . with his institution are to the institution, and that . . . a chapter of a fraternity involves the definite responsibility . . . for the conduct of the individual.
3. That the fraternity should promote conduct consistent with good morals and good taste.
4. That the fraternity should create an atmosphere which will stimulate substantial intellectual progress and superior intellectual achievement.

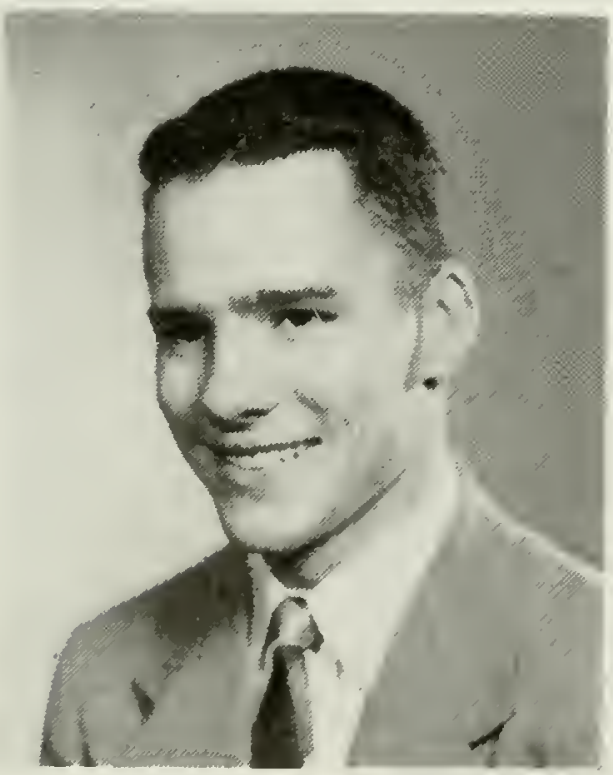
• ISA

The Maryland chapter of the Independent Student's Association has been dusting off the "Welcome" mat all summer, just for this occasion.

The Independent Student's Association is a low-cost social organization designed for the student who cannot afford the expenses of a fraternity or sorority or doesn't want to shoulder the time-consuming obligations of Greek life. It offers dances, picnics, parties and full participation in intramural sports, as well as representation in the student government and other campus-wide activities.



We have mentioned only a few of the many activities planned for this year, but the ISA is still looking for new ideas. You can help us better serve the University and its students by joining the ISA and supporting it.

Al Register,
President

● INDEPENDENT STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

President ..... Alton Register
Vice-President ..... Ralph Crosby
Secretary ..... Amanda Wall
Treasurer ..... Chuck Keffer
Faculty Advisor ..... John Daiker

ISA is the campus organization for all independent students, and was established to provide a social organization for those students who were not affiliated with other social fraternities. To achieve this, the group holds an Autumn Barn Dance each fall an annual Xmas party, and is now making plans for a banquet and formal to be held sometime next spring. Parties, and other social functions are held throughout the year.

In addition to their activities, the independents are now seeking permission from the Student Life Committee to establish the Silver Key, a companion honorary to the fraternities' Gate and Key and the sororities' Diamond, to honor those independent students most active in campus activities. ISA hopes to make the first awards next spring.

In the fall, the club will have its own office in the newly-constructed Student Union Building, in which they will hold their 7 o'clock Monday night meetings. All independents are invited to attend.

This show is presented nightly for a week to a full house of students, parents and children who spend a delightful evening viewing the antics of future showmen. To prepare for this event the group meets on Wednesday nights in the Old Gym where they practice their stunts vigorously. The main event at the "Home Show" for the troupers comes at the close of the evening when the best trouper award is presented.

The most outstanding members who received the award this year were Carolyn Cheek and By Milligan.

The Modern Dance Club, directed by Miss Dorothy Madden, meets on Tuesday evenings at 7:30 in the Women's Field House. Open to all interested students, regardless of previous training, the club also has meetings for beginners at 4 p.m. Monday afternoon.

"Invitation to the Dance" was the first program presented by the club. All types of dancing were demonstrated—folk, ballroom and square dancing—and a modern dance interpretation of these dances was given to show how modern dance uses all types of dance forms in composition.

The club also presents an annual Modern Dance Concert, gives demonstrations for nearby high schools, participates in the May Day celebration and performs for many campus clubs. The choreography for these shows is done by the students themselves. Organized to acquaint the campus with modern dancing and to give interested students a chance to participate in dancing programs, the group welcomes all students.

Between semesters "Dear Ruth" was taken "on the road" to tour air bases in Iceland and the Azores.

Tryouts for acting and work on various backstage crews are open to all students. Notices of tryouts are listed in the Diamondback before each production and back-stage workers may sign up on

That's the familiar station break of WMUC, the radio voice of the University of Maryland. WMUC offers to all students interested in radio a chance to announce, write scripts, and engage in the engineering, business and research aspects of the field.

Students can hear broadcasts of nearly all school events, ranging from the Inter-fraternity Sing in the Coliseum to sports events from as far away as the basketball playoffs in Raleigh, N. C.

Heard only on the campus, WMUC expects to increase its broadcast coverage in the area to match its complete coverage of campus activities.

Chapel Choir

President ..... Mike Littleton
Vice-President ..... Mel Hyuett
Secretary ..... Anna Jacquette
Director ..... Mr. Fague Springmann

The youngest of Maryland's musical organizations is the Chapel Choir. Begun shortly after the completion of the Chapel, the group is designed to provide music for services there. This year they will sing every Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. in special vesper services in the main Chapel.

The choir has also broadened its program of activities, until last year their performances included several appearances with the National Symphony Orchestra, a January performance of a Rodgers and Hammerstein program at Constitution Hall and participation before President Eisenhower at the Arlington Ampitheatre Memorial Day ceremonies.

This year the group plans two appearances with the National Symphony Orchestra, one in Constitution Hall and the other in Ritchie Colesium. Students interested in participating in the choir may sign up in the armory during registration or attend the rehearsals in the Chapel on Monday and Wednesday afternoons from 3 to 5 p.m.

Clef and Key

President ..... Mike Littleton
Vice-President ..... Barry Klein
Secretary ..... Virginia Corbin
Treasurer ..... Jesse Cowan

Organized primarily to produce the annual campus musical revue, Clef and Key welcomes all students who are interested in singing and acting. This spring the group, in conjunction with University Theatre and the Modern Dance Club, brought the popular Cole Porter comedy, "Anything Goes" to the campus.

Under the direction of Rudolph Pugliese of the speech faculty, members were able to get first-hand experience in everything from comedy roles to chorus line high stepping. Tryouts for the musical are open to all students and are held before each production.

Membership in Clef and Key is awarded to students attending three consecutive meetings, held every other Tuesday in the Music building. Although the musical revue is the group's major activity it performed at near-by hospitals, where song, dance and comedy acts were enthusiastically received. The club plans to continue these activities this year.

Men's Glee Club

President ..... Harry White
Vice-President ..... Norman Taylor
Secretary ..... Bob Fuches
Treasurer ..... Ed Ganatt

The men's Glee Club is one of the most active musical groups on campus. Their activities last year included a presentation of the "Testament of Freedom" for the Prince George's Bar Association and a performance at the Cherry Blossom Festival. The highlight of the year was the group's performance of Handel's "Messiah" at Lisner Auditorium last December in cooperation with the Air Force Symphony Orchestra, the George Washington University Women's Chorus and the Singing Sergeants. Next year, under the direction of Mr. Fague Springmann, the group plans to continue their active program.

The rehearsals of the Glee Club are held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 5 p.m. in the Music Building. All men interested in gaining experience and enjoyment from group singing and who would like to participate in this active and growing organization are urged to sign up during registration in the Armory or attend rehearsals.

University Band

President ..... Tom Shipley
Vice-President ..... Freddy Froelich
Secretary-Treasurer ... Barbara Klinedinst

Whether its a pep rally, a football game or an election parade, the "Red and White" band is always there to lead the way and liven school spirit. The group practices twice a week in the Armory band room to achieve musical excellence and to perfect their precision field drills.

The highlight of last year's activities was the "follow-the-team" trip to Miami for the Orange Bowl game, where the band, with the colorful help of the majorettes and color guard, made an excellent showing.

A sign-up list will be in the armory during registration for both band members and majorettes.

University Orchestra

President ..... Nancy Eliot
Vice-President ..... Edith Stimson
Secretary-Treasurer .... Barbara Klinedinst

The orchestra is open to all persons, including students, faculty and non-university people. Rehearsals are held from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the armory band room and offer members an opportunity to acquire practical experience in group playing. Plans for the coming year include participation in several campus activities and a spring concert.

Women's Chorus

President .....Anna Jacquette
Vice-President .....Sandra Souder
Secretary .....Barbara Browning
Treasurer .....Sylvia Nielander

Faculty Advisor ....Mr. Fague Springmann

The Women's Chorus has always been one of the University's outstanding musical groups. It is open to all women students who enjoy group singing. Tryouts are held each fall and rehearsals will be held on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 4 p.m. in the Music Building.

Beside their regular campus concerts during the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons the chorus is making plans for a spring program of music with the Men's Glee Club, concerts for off-campus groups, and a repeat performance of last year's TV appearance.

The highlight of the club's activities is the trip to Annapolis to sing at the Naval Academy. In addition to the fun and enjoyment that the group offers to its members, Women's Chorus is now a one-credit course and may be taken for credit. Interested students may sign up in the Armory during registration.

● THE CULTURAL PROGRAM

Several years ago, many students became aware of the growing number of plays, concerts, art exhibits and musicals which were constantly being produced in Washington, and a desire arose to make these activities more available to students.

As a result, several campus organizations combined their efforts to bring about this "campus culture program". One of the first results of their work was the appearance, in 1949, of the National Symphony Orchestra, for a series of concerts in the Colesium. The enthusiastic student response has brought the orchestra back each year, bringing some of the world's finest music and performers to the campus. Under the direction of Dr. Howard Mitchell, the group performed many times for large audiences, all at reduced student prices. In addition to bringing the performers to campus, plans are underway for other activities which will help students take advantage of the programs and exhibits in the surrounding area. Special reduced prices for many of the better plays and movies, and information concerning current activities in Washington will be more available to the students, and sight-seeing tours of Washington and other special trips are also under consideration. Watch the Diamondback for further information.

PUBLICATIONS

Dear Jane and Joe Journalist,

Your arrival on the University of Maryland campus was news. It was announced to the public by the sounds of heavily laden, trunk filled cars, the buzz of "oh's and ah's", the footsteps of 3,000 additional students, but mainly it was acknowledged by the publications. The Diamondback wrote of your entrance, the M Book was a guide for you and the Old Line welcomed you.

Why not become a part of this gigantic organization which is created to fill the students needs. To do so, head toward the Publications Building where the hum of typewriters may be heard far into the night. Here you will find a place to practice all the mechanics of good writing which you have learned in English and Journalism classes. You will find companionship in sharing the struggles of other young reporters whose earnest desire is to report all the facts, portray campus life as it exists and keep pace with the throbbing under-current of news which is constantly breaking around campus.

You'll have fun while learning. I guarantee it.

MILITARY

AFROTC Activities

The ROTC program begins early in the fall semester with the issuance of uniforms and regularly scheduled drill periods. Drill is suspended during the winter months and begun again in April. Final drill sessions take place on Military Day—in the middle of May.

Drill proficiency and other outstanding military achievements are exhibited and rewarded on Military Day. This day culminates the achievements of the ROTC program for the year.

In addition, the Air Force Ball gives a welcome relief to the drill program and gives each cadet a chance to take his best girl to a formal military social function. The corps of cadets also participates in a mass march-on at one of the games near the end of the football season.

The High Command

Operations of the AFROTC unit are supervised by half a hundred regular Air Force personnel, who must keep detailed records on each cadet in the largest AFROTC unit in the country as well as provide classroom and drill instruction.

The Commanding Officer in the organization is the Professor of Air Science and Tactics, who coordinates the activities of the unit. This position is held by Colonel Joseph R. Ambrose, who is in his second year as CO.

Arnold Air Society

Commanding Officer .....Donald Hoover
Executive Officer .....D. R. Delanter
Treasurer .....David Baker

Arnold Air Society is an honorary organization for advanced AFROTC cadets. Members are recommended on the basis of exceptional leadership ability, high scholastic standing, and interest in the Air Force. The Society sponsors the annual Air Force Ball for the Air Division and invites several outstanding men in the Air Force and aviation field to speak to them during the year. The members proudly wear a blue and gold aiguillette.

Scabbard and Blade

Captain .....Arthur C. Weiner
Second Lieutenant .....Dale Jackson
First Lieutenant .....Philip C. Kearney
First Sergeant .....Henry R. Passi

Scabbard and Blade is a national honorary fraternity for all the military forces. The purpose of Scabbard and Blade, is "to have a greater influence in the military affairs of the community in which we may reside, and above all to spread intelligent information concerning the military requirements of our country."

Qualifications for membership are a 3.0 average in all ROTC classes and a 2.5 in campus classes. Members are tapped at the Air Force Ball.

Pershing Rifles

Captain ..... Don Hoover
Executive Officer ....Charles O. Johnson
Adjutant .....Robert Winkler
Pledge Officer ..... Leland G. Lay
First Sergeant .....Michael C. Middleton

Pershing Rifles is an organization of basic ROTC students who are distinguished on campus by their blue and white shoulder cords, white gloves and helmets. The job of the men in blue is to promote good citizenship by creating a closer relationship between basic cadets, advanced cadets, and ROTC instructors in addition to teaching the ideals of the Pershing Rifles. Their activities include precision and trick drill with and without the M-1.

To join this organization, a new student signs up for membership during registration and then serves a pledge period of about six weeks. The PR's drill in the regularly scheduled drill period except for a one week period before the national drill competition scheduled for the first part of May.

Last year in Pittsburgh, this crack drill outfit took first place nationally in both trick drill and rifle match competition.

AFROTC Band

Captain .....William A. Stokes
Lieutenant .....Charles S. Koffer
Faculty Advisor ..... Lt. Robert Landers

The AFROTC Band wearing red and white aiquillettes provides music for military formations such as convocations, parades, and Military Day. They can be seen and heard marching and playing during the AFROTC drill sessions twice each week. Membership is open to all freshmen and sophomores.

Angel Flight

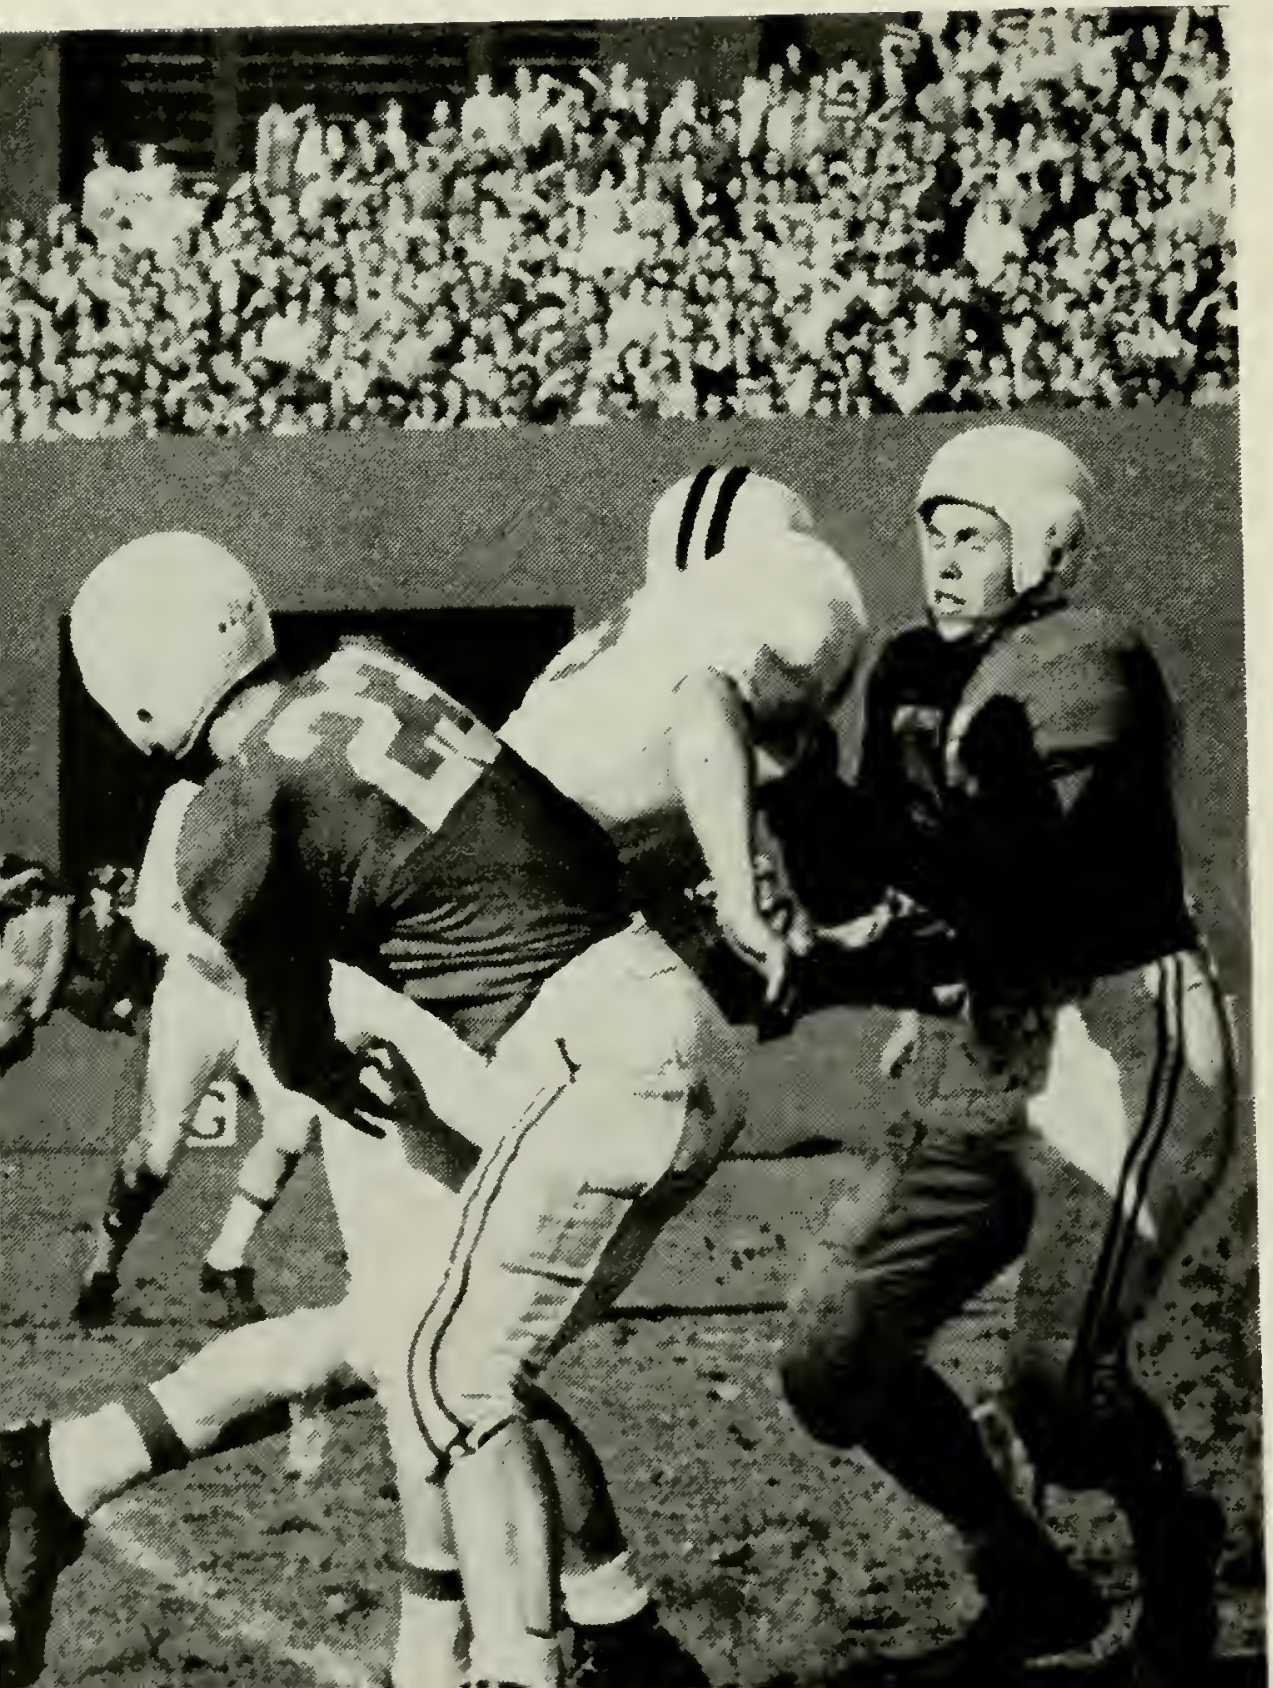
Flight Leader ..... Felice Cohn
First Wing ..... Pat Siegman
Second Wing ..... Jean Murphy
Third Wing ..... Ann Essex

The Angel Flight is composed of coeds who have been elected by the various squadrons as sponsors for their unit. Coeds are nominated by the cadets in each squadron, then each cadet votes on the nominees to select his squadron angel. The majority of the girls are freshmen.

The Angel Flight is a nation-wide organization who, in conjunction with the Arnold Air Society, promotes the interest of the cadets in the Air Force and the interest of the student body in the ROTC program.

In an effort to learn more about the Air Force, the girls have several guest speakers each year. Last year they made a trip to Andrews Air Force Base. "Angels" serve as hostesses of the cadet corps and help to make the Military Ball a success.

● ATHLETICS



Athletics, both intercollegiate and intramural, play an important part in the college career of every student of the University. There is an excellent intramural program the year around for the students who do not make the varsity teams.

The Athletic Council sponsors an intercollegiate program in all sports at the University. Every student is invited and urged to come out for these sports.

Don't wait for a special invitation or don't assume you are not good enough for the best. If you can't make the team, join with the rest of the student body in being the extra player in the stands to create the spirit which makes the men who finally earn the honor to represent you play their best. If you can't play a sport, be a sport.

The morale of the student body is important to the caliber of your athletic teams and you can furnish the morale.

JAMES TATUM,
Director of Athletics

Year of Champions . . .

The football team, for the first time in its history, was named the NATION'S NUMBER ONE TEAM, while the rifle team became the first team since 1935 to be named the Nation's best in that sport two consecutive years.

The boxing team nearly brought the University its third National championship when it missed winning the team title by two points. However, Gary Garber and Vincent Palumbo took individual National boxing titles.

The All-American City tournament went to the Terrapin basketball team, with All-America Gene Shue the pacesetter.

Atlantic Coast Conference titles went to the wrestling, soccer, and indoor and outdoor track teams.

All-America's were galore at Maryland. Besides Shue in basketball, Bernie Faloney, Chet Hanulak and Stan Jones were selected in football, with Jones named the "Lineman of the Year." George Corrigan was a first team and Rennie Smith a second team choice in lacrosse. Jim Wells, Bud Barton and Bob Martorana were rifle All-Americas, the first time three men from one team have ever been selected.

James Tatum was named "Football Coach of the Year," but to Terrapin fans, he is "Athletic Director of the Year."

Football

Head Coach . . . . . James M. Tatum

"Maryland, we're all behind you," goes the Maryland Victory Song and all the football teams in the country were behind Maryland last year as the Terrapins were unanimously chosen the NUMBER ONE TEAM IN THE NATION.

"Coach of the Year" Jim Tatum's Split-T offense was served to 10 opponents in 1953 and all ten went down to defeat—six by shutouts.

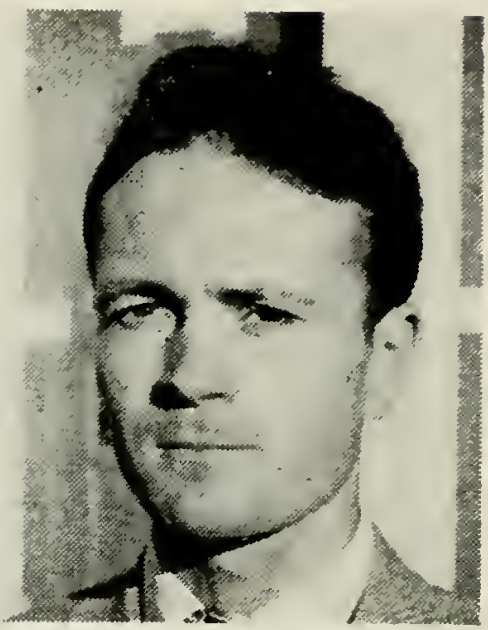
Termed what Tatum called his best backfield ever, the quartet of Bernie Faloney at quarterback, Chet Hanulak and Dick Nolan at the halfbacks and Ralph Felton at fullback enabled Maryland never to be behind or tied all season.

Hanulak from Hackensack, led the Nation's runners with a 9.8 yards per carry, while Faloney was named on most All-Americas.

Opening up the holes in the line and doing a stellar job on defense was "Lineman of the Year" Stan Jones. Jones headed a line that held the opposition to 31 points all season.

As has happened the past four years, the Number One team went down to defeat in a bowl game. This time Oklahoma pulled the coup de grace, 7-0, in the Orange Bowl.

Soccer



Coach .....Doyle P. Royal

Maryland's soccer team got the 1953-54 athletic season off to a winning start by taking the first of four of Maryland's Atlantic Coast Conference championships.

Five All-Conference players paced the Terrapins to a sweep of three conference games and eight of ten for the year. Charles Reynolds, Jose Hagedorn, Otto Winckleman, Tom Baden and Hector Salinas were named to the All-ACC team.

The outstanding game of the season was the 6-5 overtime win over Navy. It was the first time Maryland had beaten Navy in 10 years. Other wins were over Duke, North Carolina State, Loyola, Connecticut, North Carolina, Washington and Lee and Western Maryland.

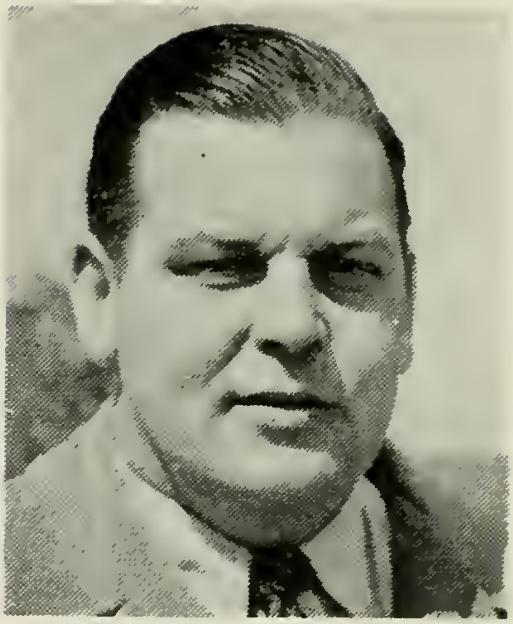
Rifle

Three All-Americas led the Maryland rifle team to its second consecutive National Intercollegiate Rifle team title. It was the first time since 1934-35 that any team has repeated as National champions.

James Wells, and Bob Martorana were named All-America for the first time, while Bud Barton was a holdover from last year's National Rifle Association All-America team. Dick Gorey and Linn Savage completed the quintet that fired a score of 1439 out of a possible 1500 to pace the Terrapins over some 90 schools competing in 14 sectional meets for the national title.

During the regular season the marksmen downed five of six opponents, losing only to Army. That loss was avenged later in an eight team meet, as did the AFROTC team avenge the football loss in the Orange Bowl by downing the University of Oklahoma AFROTC team.

Wrestling



Coach ..... William Krouse

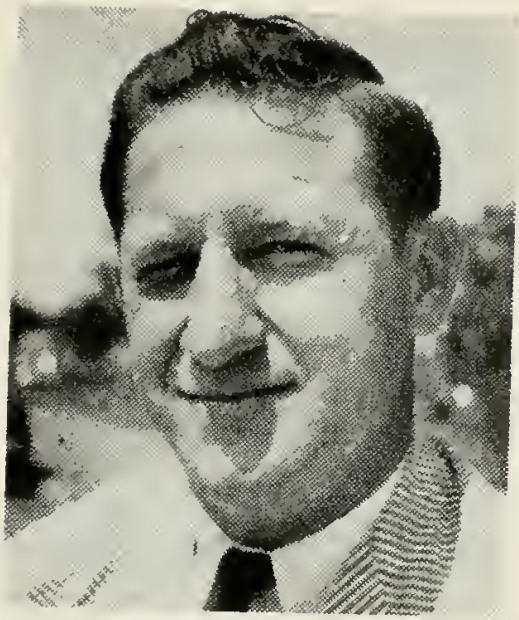
Instrumental in the drive to the conference titles were the indomnitable Fischer Brothers—Bob and Ernie. The graduating seniors lost only one match each in their four years of college wrestling.

Ernie, who went to the finals of the NCAA National championships in the 177 pound class last year, won 29 matches, while Bob had 31 wins in the 167 pound class. Both were Southern Conference champs in 1952 and 1953 and undefeated in 1954.

Boxing



Coach ..... Frank Cronin

While boxing is on the decline at most colleges, Maryland's ring team moved to the front this past season by winning the Eastern Intercollegiates and finishing only two points behind Wisconsin for the National title.

While the team couldn't win the National title, sophomores Gary Garber and Vincent Palumbo slugged their way to individual National titles in the 119 and 132 pound classes respectively.

In winning the Eastern Intercollegiates, for the first time since 1942, Maryland ended a five year reign by Syracuse. Heavyweight Leo Coyne and Garber won Eastern titles.

In dual team matches the Terps, who will go to the Sugar Bowl this year, won three and lost three. (Coach Cronin can be contacted through extension 463.)

Cross-Country and Track

Coach ..... Jim Kehoe

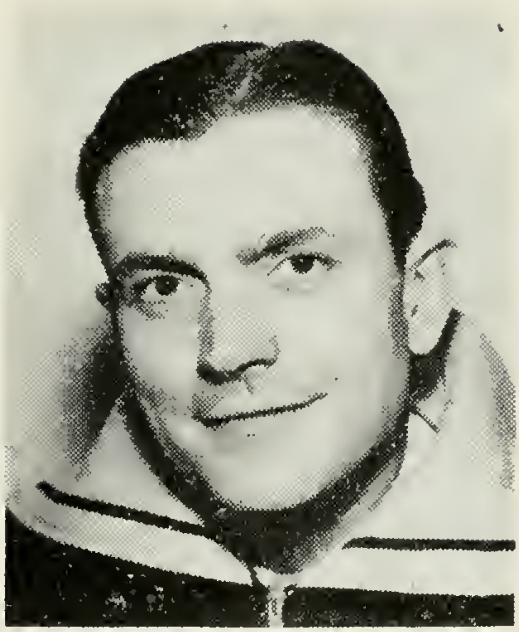
Track has no definite season at Maryland, it lasts the whole year.

In the fall, Maryland's cross-country team dropped its first two starts, but came back strong to win the next three and a second place finish in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

While lacking an outstanding star, Kehoe's teams have adequate men and depth in almost every event, getting most of their points in seconds and thirds.

Maryland dominated the ACC track seasons, by capturing both the Indoor and Outdoor championships. The Terps took six firsts in the Indoor games, including a record breaking pole vault of 13′ ¾″ by Mel Schwarz.

Basketball



Coach ..... Bud Millikan

Basketball was at its best last year at Maryland and promises to be even better this year.

Gene Shue, first draft choice of the pro Philadelphia Warriors, paced the Terrapins to 23 wins in 30 games, for the best Maryland basketball record in history.

With Shue voted the outstanding player of the tournament, Maryland walked off with the first All-American City title at Owensboro, Kentucky. Coach Bud Millikan's defensive-minded Terrapins will defend that title this year.

The Terps hope to improve on their second place standing in the Atlantic Coast Conference and lick the semi-final jinx that has eliminated them in the Conference tournament for four years.

Golf

Coach ..... Frank Cronin

Coach Frank Cronin's golf team opened and closed the season with losses, but in-between the team was hot, fashioning a six-game win streak.

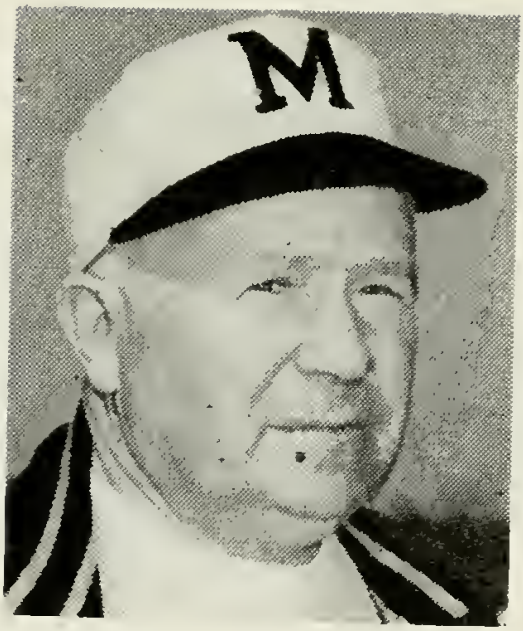
For the year, the golfing Terrapins ended up on the plus side of the scorecard with eight wins against six losses. The Terrapins dropped their first two starts, but came back with two 9-0 wins before going on a three match losing streak. Then came the six match win streak before dropping the season's finals.

Sophomore Jim DiPiro had the best record with nine wins in the fourteen matches, followed by Carl Kroneberger with eight wins playing in the number one position. DiPiro finished one stroke behind Wake Forest's National Collegiate champion Arnold Palmer's 72 in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament.

Kroneberger was medalist in two matches, as was DiPiro. Only other medalist was Bill McFerren. Home matches are played at the Prince Georges' Country Club off campus, but a nine-hole course is to be constructed in the near future adjacent to Byrd Stadium.

(Coach Cronin can be contacted through extension 463.)

Baseball



Coach ..... H. Burton Shipley

Maryland's baseball team was riding high on top of the Atlantic Coast Conference with an eight game winning streak and headed for its best season ever, until it dropped five of its last six games. That streak gave Clemson (8-4) the ACC title, with Maryland (6-4) second. Maryland could have tied for the lead, but conceded the title to Clemson as two rained-out games were cancelled.

The overall season's record in Coach Burton Shipley's 31st year was 15 wins, nine losses and a tie.

Seven players batted over .300 with Bill Walker's .365 the team's best and third best in the ACC. Hemphill won seven of ten games, while Russ Duffey dropped only one of seven decisions, for an earned run average of 1.35.

Tennis

Coach . . . . . Doyle Royal

It was either feast or famine for the Terrapin tennis team last year. In winning ten of fifteen matches, the Terrapins were involved in six 9-0 matches and four 8-1 matches.

Of the ten one-sided affairs the Terps came out best seven times, including a three match streak when they shutout Maine, Western Maryland and West Virginia.

The Terrapins dropped the opener but came back strong to win the next seven in a row for Coach Doyle Royal. Maryland (4-1) finished second to North Carolina (5-0) in the ACC standings.

John Myers won 12 of fifteen matches to top the netmen. Bud Leightheiser (11-4) and Jack Clifford (10-5) also were outstanding. Myers and Clifford formed the top doubles team with a 12-3 record. Home matches are played on the tennis courts behind the Women's Field House, but new courts are to be constructed in the near future adjacent to the new Activities Building.

Lacrosse

Co-Coaches . . . Jack Faber and Al Hagey

With an attack many called the best in the Nation, Maryland was rated an early season choice for the National lacrosse title, especially after it had routed Virginia 18-7.

The Terrapins rolled to easy wins in their first five games, but a noted weakness was a defense that wasn't up to championship standards. That weakness was verified in the Navy game, as the Terrapins fell, 12-7. Maryland finished with nine wins in 12 games.

Princeton bowed to the Terrapins, 13-9, in a game where Maryland scored a goal a minute for the first seven minutes.

George Corrigan was selected as an All-America attackman.

(Coach Faber can be contacted at T304 or through extension 231.)

Freshman Basketball . . .

Tops, recordwise, was the frosh basketball team with 10 wins in 11 games. Moving up to the varsity next season will be leading scorer Frank Fuqua 6'7" center, who scored 40 points in one game; Bob O'Brien and Mark Vodopia, set shot artists; drivers Drew Schaufler, Bob Nardone and Bob Hardiman. All possess height and speed and fit well into varsity coach Bud Millikan's future plans.

Freshman Sports

The minor leagues at Maryland are the freshman teams and its here that future Maryland stars are developed.

The "basic training" received under the guidance of experienced coaching personnel is the first step towards the varsity. Even if you weren't great in high school, don't let that stop you from trying out for a freshman sport. The starting center on last year's varsity basketball team wasn't a first stringer in high school, but under coaching and development here at Maryland was the team's second highest scorer.

Like the varsity, freshman sports at Maryland last year had good seasons.

Freshman Baseball . . .

Phil Calder's .409 batting average headed the list of seven .300 plus batting averages on the frosh baseball team, which split in six games.

Bob Kiatta batted .333 and hit the team's only home run.

Stanley Bobb (1-0) and Pat Cinnamond (2-1) accounted for the top pitching.

Freshman Football . . .

The freshman football season was a success, if only because of the first win ever scored over the Naval Academy Plebes. Coach Whitey Dovell's team finished with a 3-1 record, but like the varsity, lost in a bowl game to Bullis Prep.

Boys who have moved up to the varsity are Frank Tamburello, quarterback; guard Jack Davis, tackle Mike Sandusky, center Gene Alderton and halfbacks Howie Dare, Ralph Hawkins, Harold Hull, John McVicker and Jack Healy.

Freshman Lacrosse . . .

Coach Danny Bonthron's frosh lacrosse team won four and dropped three for the season. Goalie Dick McNichols and attackman Frank Walsh are two boys who should help this year's varsity, after a good year on the frosh team.

Intramurals

Men's ..... Jim Kehoe, Director

The Men's intramural program is divided into two divisions, the Open and Fraternity Leagues. The winners of each sport in each division playoff for the University intramural championship. Winners in each sport are awarded medals.

The University Intramural Department has formulated a program, which includes 26 activities, designed to provide recreational activity for male students.

Any group may enter teams in the Open League, with entries available in the intramural office in the Armory.

(Coach Kehoe can be contacted in the Armory at extension 370.)

Women's ..... Dorothy Deach, Director

The Women's Recreation Association coordinates the women's intramural program. The WRA offers coeds swimming, badminton, tennis, bowling, basketball, volleyball and archery.

The WRA is run by the women students and is open to all women on campus. Tournaments are held between dorms and sororities with awards and trophies going to the winners. Each year the WRA sponsors a "Sports Day" with other such groups from nearby Colleges and Universities.

Vice-President ..... Eva Levine

Treasurer ..... Ann Weiderhold
Faculty Advisor ..... Dr. Harvey

WRA is an organization designed to co-ordinate athletic activities for all women students.

Tournaments between the dorms and the sororities are held each year, as well as various sports and play days throughout the year.

Besides their sports activities, the WRA holds picnics, outings, and parties for all women students to have a well-rounded social and recreational program.

● SONGS AND CHEERS

With the Student Activities Committee and the cheerleaders behind it, Maryland's school spirit has reached an all-time high. The student's response in the football card sections and "meet the team" jaunts, and at pep rallies and "noise parades" have shown that the work of these organizations has been enthusiastically supported.

The cheerleaders, under Gary Hayman, will put forth all their efforts to give the teams backing and support.

To display loyalty to our teams, all the students at the university contribute—by their attendance and voices at all university sports activities. One of the best ways to show your loyalty to the school is to know the school songs and cheers. Then you can show your team that you are behind them.

Not all of these songs and cheers are traditional. In their efforts to keep the school cheers fresh and new, SAC and the cheerleaders sponsor a cheer contest each spring so that everyone can suggest new cheers. This way, as new students enter the University, new cheers are added to the collection—and Maryland's cheering spirit remains on top.

SONGS

The following are a few of the many songs and cheers heard at athletic events and campus rallies

Sons of Old Maryland

Sons of old Maryland
Old Maryland needs you!
Stand by your colors, boys,
And to them e'er be true!
Fight for old Maryland,
Old Liners stand,

● GENERAL INFORMATION

ACADEMIC

Classes begin on the hour and last for 50 minutes. If a teacher fails to appear for his class, students must wait 20 minutes for a Dean, 15 minutes for a Doctor, and 10 minutes for an instructor before leaving. After three unexcused absences, a student is reported to his Dean and his parents are notified. Too many absences lower a grade and may result in a complete course failure. To drop a course, the student must do so before a set time each semester, as specified in the semester's schedule of classes. Permission from the student's Dean and a fee are required to drop a subject.

ACTIVITIES FEE

The activities fee, paid at registration, supports publications, dances, and other activities open to students.

ATHLETIC FEE

This fee covers the cost of admission to all intercollegiate sport events held on the College Park campus, and is represented by the Athletic book received at registration, which must be shown with ID card at all games.

COMMUNICATIONS

The post office, located in the Ad building, handles stamps, regular mail, and notices from the University and organizations to the students.

The campus telephone number is WA 7-3800. Campus phones may be used for on-campus calls. Off campus calls may be made on pay telephones. Telegrams may be sent from the campus telephone exchange located in the east end of the Education building basement. Incoming wires are either delivered or phoned to student residences on campus.

EATING PLACES ON CAMPUS

A cafeteria is located on the lower floor of the Dining Hall. The University Dairy, next to Rossborough Inn, serves ice cream and dairy products every day except Sundays.

PUBLICATIONS DISTRIBUTION

The "Diamondback" and "Old Line" are available in the basement of the Ad Building, the Library, the Dining Hall and in most classroom buildings. The "Terrapin" is distributed to individual students in the middle of May. The "M-Book" may be picked up by February freshmen in the publications office.

TRANSPORTATION

College Park is served by the Greyhound and Trailways bus lines. Greyhound schedules and tickets are obtained in the Varsity Grill. Trailways and local bus information are found in the College Park Delicatessen.

LIBRARY

The University library and the library annex are open from 7:30 a.m. until 10 p.m., Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, and from 3 p.m. until 10 p.m. on Sunday. Overdue books from the loan desk receive a five cent per day fine, and overdue books taken from the reserve shelves are fined according to the number of minutes and/or hours late.

UNIVERSITY CATALOGS

Every college on campus has a separate catalog as well as the professional schools in Baltimore. The Academic and General Regulations bulletin is a general catalog published each year. It describes entrance requirements, costs, fees, facilities, residence requirements, traffic regulations and attendance requirements. To get copies of these catalogs, pick them up in the Publications office in Room 28 of Symons Hall.

STUDENT UNION BUILDING

During the past year students have curiously watched the progress of the new Student Union Building, located on the northwest end of the campus. Now open for use to the student body, the building will combine many student conveniences which have previously been scattered across the campus. The post office, originally located in the Ad building, will be in the new building. Also the Student Supply Store serving the needs of the student body by selling school supplies and required texts for the courses offered each semester, and offices for student organizations such as the Independent Students Association, SGA and Student Employment. The main attraction will be a quiet lounge and Rec Hall which will serve coffee, donuts and other quick in-between class snacks. This is destined to be the new nerve center of the campus.

Hail! Alma Mater!
Hail to thee, Maryland!
Steadfast in Loyalty
For Thee We Stand.
Love for the Black and Gold,
Deep in our hearts we hold,
Singing, thy praise forever,
Throughout the land.

Maryland, we're all behind you,

Wave high the Black and Gold

For there is nothing half so glorious

As to see our team victorious.

We've got the team, boys,

We've got the steam, boys,

So keep on fighting, don't, give in!

M-A-R-Y-L-A-N-D (yell)

Maryland will win!
